

Erskine College Press Box

Due West, South Carolina

Design South Professionals was commissioned by Erskine College to remove the upper half of their current sports press box and construct a new and updated press box at the Huggins Field Soccer Complex located on the Erskine College Campus. This project consisted of Conceptual and Construction Documents phases. During the Construction Documents phase, Design South developed the floor plan, elevations, and building sections, as well as provided mechanical and electrical drawings from our consultants. Interior finish selections were also part of the construction document project scope.
