

Kershaw County Speculative Bldg Camden, South Carolina

Design South Professionals developed plans for a new 60,000 square foot call center to be used by the Kershaw County Economic Development office in marketing of the Kershaw County Office Park in Camden, SC. This process is being accomplished via a virtual speculative facility which is designed and permit ready for construction including a three dimensional fly around application of the facility to the proposed site.

Using Revit modeling software for development of this project, Design South was able to illustrate material & design options in an attractive and captivating process.
