

North Greenville Fire Station Travelers Rest, South Carolina

This fire station for the North Greenville Fire District is located along Tigerville Road, in North Greenville County. Through a successful public request for qualifications, Design South teamed with Hogan Construction Group to work on programming and schematic design of the station. A guaranteed maximum price was established that fit the owner’s budget.

At 11,442 square feet, the station features four drive-through apparatus bays, training room, offices, and many staff amenities. These staff amenities include seven individual bunk rooms, a physical fitness area, a large day room, kitchen, and covered patio. The existing fire station had to remain operational during the construction, so our team placed the new station in the middle of the site, which allowed the station to coincide with the surrounding neighborhood.
