

York Electric Cooperative Main Office Lobby Renovation York, South Carolina

Due to increased transactions, York Electric Cooperative asked Design South to investigate updating their customer service lobby to be more functional and secure. Design South integrated the current finishes into the updated space with bullet resistant transaction counters, electrical access control and a new privacy wall leading into the employee areas. The end result enhances employee privacy and security while providing visual control over the customer service lobby. While integrating security and function Design South added new custom casework, a media area and wall finishes.
